Visiting IES

Travel:

Montpellier Méditerranée Airport (MPL) is directly connected to Paris and several national or international airports. To go to the city center, take the airport shuttle (line 120) waiting on the left when exiting the arrival terminal. It will drop you at the “Place de l’Europe” tramway stop. Take tramway line 1 (blue cars) bound to “Mosson” to get to the city center.

Another option is to fly to Marseille (MRS) and then take a train at the nearby train station (a bus shuttle connects MRS to the train station). It takes ~1.5 h to reach Montpellier.

Montpellier is also connected to Lyon and Paris via high speed trains. It takes ~3.5 h from Paris’ city center (Gare de Lyon) and ~4.5 h from Paris-Charles-de-Gaulle Airport’s train station to reach Montpellier. Montpellier-Lyon takes ~2 h.

Note: there are 2 train stations in Montpellier: “Montpellier Sud de France” is outside the city. We strongly advise that you travel to “Montpellier-Saint-Roch” station.
